Robertson Hall Insurance is pleased to present the Church Protection Plus 2008 Risk Management Symposium for Churches and Charitable Organizations...

LIABILITY 101: UNDERSTANDING INSURANCE BETTER

Insurance and legal issues facing Christian charities can be complex and confusing for the lay person. Sometimes in order to save a few premium dollars, consumers make costly mistakes when purchasing policies by falling prey to common myths about liability insurance. Properly understanding the various types of liability coverage available is not only crucial to your own personal financial protection, but is also for the benefit of all of those individuals and stakeholders in your organization who depend on your insurance purchasing decision for their protection, including other directors, officers, trustees, members, employees and volunteers!

This seminar is intended to dispel the common myths about insurance and to give you a basic understanding of liability protection, including the various types of coverage available, reviewing how much coverage is enough for your organization, comparing “apples for oranges” differences in policy wordings and a quick lesson in recognizing some common exclusions or limitations in standard policies that may restrict coverage in the event of a lawsuit. As a result, you will be better equipped to ask the right questions of your insurance provider so that you get the right coverage for your organization.

RISK MANAGEMENT: THE TOP TEN LIST OF LIABILITY RISKS FACING CHRISTIAN CHARITIES

This seminar provides Christian leaders with a framework for understanding the “nuts and bolts” of effective risk management, loss prevention and insurance protection for their organization’s ministries, operations, programs and events. The primary goal is to identify and reduce the risk of preventable injuries to employees, members, guests and participants in your programs and to implement sound practices and procedures that avoid unnecessary legal liability actions by third parties against your organization and its board members.

Sample case studies will be included for risks such as physical and sexual abuse, sports and recreation, the use of your facilities by outside parties, directors’ and officers’ fiduciary duties, counselling services and other matters that result in frequent litigation against churches and Christian charities. Each case will identify which organizations are most at risk, the potential type of liability protection available, and some practical risk management and insurance tips to avoid preventable injuries and claims.

A SAFE PLACE: EFFECTIVE ABUSE PREVENTION STRATEGIES FOR YOUR ORGANIZATION

The issue of physical and sexual abuse remains the #1 concern for organizations and institutions entrusted with the care and safety of children, youth and vulnerable adults. This presentation will focus on the following subjects:

- Why are churches and Christian charities vulnerable?
- Common myths about abuse and abusers
- Protecting your workers from false allegations
- 7-Point Checklist for effective prevention
- Abuse prevention resources available

Whether your organization is looking to implement an abuse prevention plan for the first time, or just wanting to review and update your existing policies and procedures, this seminar will help your board members and children’s ministry leaders to better understand the potential risk of abuse, along with the effective measures that are available to protect the children in your care.

Also featuring a panel of legal, insurance and other experts to discuss recent developments in Canadian courts, the new Plan to Protect (third edition) and the practical issues and challenges of effective abuse prevention for children’s ministries and youth-serving organizations. Opportunity will be available for your questions and comments.
